WILDER'S PATENT SALAMANDER SAWS,

No. 25 Merchants' Row, Boston,

CORNER OF CHATHAM STREET.

The following letter from the proprietor of the Chelsea Laundry, is a proof of the superior qualties of this saw:

CHESLEA, May 15, 1848.

John E. Wilder, Esq.—Dear Sir: In reply to your note, I have the pleasure to say that the books and papers contained in the safe I bought of you, were perfectly legible and unimpaired by fire at the burning of the Chelsea Laundry, on the night of the 10th instant. There were papers and book notes, the shavers of the safe, which had no appearance of having passed through fire. The safe was exposed to an intense heat for several hours.

Respectfully yours,
STEPHEN SIBLEY.

The following letter from the Superintendent of the Maine Telegraph Company, is another proof of the superiority of JOHN E. WIL-DER'S safe over all others:

BANGOR, Oct. 21, 1849.

John E. Wilder, Esq.—Dear Sir: The safe I purchased of you was exposed to a great degree of heat at the burning of the Telegraph office in this city. It was in the fire six hours;
the books and papers were unburned, and the damage to the safe very trifling, although it fell from the second story to the basement of the building. The hideous necessary to the safe have been made, and we shall not need to return it. It is still as good as new.

Respectfully yours,
JAMES EDY.

In addition to the above certificates in favor of these safes, I received a Diploma and Silver Medal for the best Safe held in Boston.

DYSPEPSIA, DR. HUTCHINGS' VEGETABLE DYSPEPSIA BITTERS.

THE MOST POPULAR FAMILY REMEDY OF THE AGE!

Used by Physicians of High standing.

These Bitters remove all morbid secretion, purify the blood, give great tone and vigor to the digestive organs, purify the system against all future disease, can be taken with safety, at no time debilitating the patient—being grateful to the most delicate stomach and remarkable for their cherishing, invigorating, strengthening, and restorative properties, and an invaluable and rare remedy for the DYSPEPSIA IN ITS WORST FORM.

Also, liver complaints, jaundice, hepatitis, colic, flatulence, distension of the skin, liver and kidneys, loss of appetite, bad spirits, nervous headache, giddiness, palpitation of the heart, sinking of the womb, &c., which tend to dilute and weaken the system.

Females who suffer from a morbid and unnatural condition, will find this medicine of great value.

The following certificate is from a well-known gentleman, who readily acknowledges the Bitters the only thing that keeps him alive.

Dear Sir—I hereby offer you a willing testimony to your valuable Bitters; I hardly know where to find words to thank you for the good it is doing me. I would not be without it in any account, and honestly believe that it is the only thing that keeps me alive.

I have recommended it to many of my friends;
they all speak of it in the highest terms, which it richly deserves.

You are at liberty to refer anyone to me as regards
your valuable compound.

The undersigned being acquainted with some of the ingredients of Hutchings' Vegetable Dyspepsia Bitters, and having used it for some time in his practice with every desired effect, he recommends this medicine from the certainty of its effect, and gives it a preference over all preparations in med-

NEWPORT,
BY CHANSTON & NORMAN,
127 THAMES STREET.

SATURDAY MORNING, MAY 17, 1851.

The Providence Herald, speaking of the late change of offices in this State, among other things, says—

Dauphins of Newport, the Sheriff who packed the jury for the trial of Governor Dorr, is among the displaced.

A more malicious charge than this could not well be made. Sheriff Douglass, during the thirteen years he has been in office, has always discharged all his duties well, correctly and legally. During the trial of Dorr, he had important and laborious duty to perform; he had to be just to the State and just to the prisoner, and his conduct throughout that trial was particularly marked by a fairness and impartiality which is not often witnessed in lengthy, important and exciting trials like that. Mr. Dorr never made a complaint against Sheriff Douglass, and at the closing scene, when the Sheriff took leave of him at the State Prison, Mr. Dorr thanked him kindly for all his attentions to him and the delicacy with which he had discharged his unpleasant duties.

The Rt. Rev. Bishop Henshaw will administer the Rite of Confirmation in Trinity Church to-morrow afternoon.

The May Term of the Court of Common Pleas, for this County, commences on Tuesday next.

We are indebted to a friend for files of the latest English papers, received by the last steamer.

A DANGEROUS FEAT.—On Sunday the Conductors on the Pennsylvania Railroad discovered, when they arrived at Butlerburgh, two Irishmen asleep, seated one on each of the cross-pieces of the brake, on the trucks, under the car, a distance of only eight inches from the ground. They must have rode in this position 145 miles, merely to elude the payment of $4 each. They were seated so close to the wheels that their backs robbed the grease and dust from the axles of both the trucks, and were so covered with dust, that it was difficult to determine at a glance whether they were black or white individuals.

INSTRUCTIONS TO COLLECTORS.—A circular, giving instructions to collectors and other officers of the customs, and requiring the vigilant enforcement of the law which provides that all vessels, whether American or foreign, when within four leagues of the coast of the United States, shall produce for the inspection of the hording revenue officer a full manifest of the cargo on board, with all information relating thereto.

THE DESTRUCTION OF MINOR LEDGE LIGHTHOUSE.—Col. Swift has written a letter to Col. Albert, Chief of the Topographical Engineers, at Washington, giving at length his opinion of the cause of the destruction of the Minor Ledge Lighthouse. The letter, which goes minutely into the subject, is published in the Washington Republic of Saturday last. The conclusions at which U. S. arrives are as follows:

First. That the sea did reach the main body of the structure.

Second. That the platform, or dock, placed by the keeper on the second series of braces, contrary to the design of the builder of the lighthouse, contributed to the overthrow.

Third. That the guy, or 5 1-2 inch hawser, attached by the keeper to the top of the light-house, and extending 300 feet northwest, or in a direction directly at right angles to the direction of the sea northeast, had a most injurious tendency, and that it was enough, in itself, to cause the overthrow of the lighthouse, had the sea not reached the body of the structure. It is easily to perceive that the force of such a sea upon 300 feet of a hempen rope of 5 1-2 inches must have been immense, when that rope was attached to the weakest part of the building, that is, the lantern deck, 60 feet above the rock.

THE CAT TRADE IN CALIFORNIA.—The San Francisco correspondent of the Journal of Commerce under date of April 1st, says:

The steamer Ohio on her last trip from San Diego, brought into port an importation of Cats, 96 in number. They cost at the place of embarkation about 50 cents a head, and sell here ten to twenty dollars each, according to size, sex and general condition. A fellow passenger on board the steamer told me that they had a very musical time of it. This is truly a novel article of traffic, just opening on the Pacific by our numerous little steamers, which run regularly every week up and down the coast.

To do wrong is to pawn future happiness to secure the present.

HIGH-HEEDED OUTRAGE IN DANVER.

On Saturday night a house on Main street, occupied by Jeremiah Heslerman, with his wife, two children and about a dozen male and female boarders, was assaulted by a band of young men, who, with stones and other missiles, broke nearly every window, and drove the inmates out of the back way. One man asleep in his bed was badly wounded on the head, and others were injured, leaving marks of blood in their beds. Some were also hurt by jumping out of the windows, about ten feet from the ground. These rowdies had assaulted the house several times before. Heslerman is said to be a worthy Irishman. Three young men were arrested on Monday, and brought before Trial Justice John W. Proctor, on the complaint of one of the men wounded in the above riotous assault. They made no defense, and after a brief hearing of the case, were bound over in the sum of $500 each, to keep the peace and appear before the Grand Jury, at the next term of the Court. Their names are Henry Poor Jr., William Dodge, and Nathaniel Harris.

A NEW MENTION OF EXTERMINATING RATS.—A friend of ours, lately returned from a sea voyage, thus relates the mode in which these pests were got rid of, after being a long time at sea. "On arriving at Juan Fernandez, our long boat was lowered, and a part of the crew went on shore, and gathered a quantity of boughs and other green stuff, and returned to the ship, making the boat fast alongside. In the evening, the rats having got scent of the vegetation, all went over the side into the boat; when this was completed, the boat was sent ashore, with its freight, much to our gratification."—Newburyport Herald.

REASONS FOR KEEPING THE TEETH CLEAN.—At a meeting of the American Academy, December, 1849, a paper was read by Dr. H. J. Bowditch, on the animal and vegetable parasites infesting the teeth, with the effects of different agents in causing their removal and destruction. Microscopical examinations had been made of the matter deposited on the teeth and gums of more than forty individuals, selected from all classes of society, in every variety of bodily condition, and in nearly every case animal and vegetable parasites in great numbers have been discovered.—

Of the animal parasites there were three or four species, and of the vegetable one or two. In fact the only persons whose mouths were found to be completely free from them cleansed their teeth four times daily, using soap once. One or two of these individuals also passed a thread between the teeth to cleanse them more effectually. In all cases the number of the parasites was greater in proportion to the neglect of cleanliness. The effect of the application of various agents was also noticed. Tobacco juice and smoke did not impair their vitality in the least. The same was also true of the chlorine tooth wash, pulverized bark, of soda, ammonia, and various other popular detergents. The application of soap, however, appeared to destroy them instantly. We may hence infer that this is the best and most proper specific for cleansing the teeth. In all cases where it has been tried, it receives unqualified commendation. It may also be proper to add, that none but the purest white soap free from all discolorations, should be used.

REMARKABLE COINCIDENCE.—Nothing shows more convincingly the little importance attaching to the secession movement of o' Palmettobdom, than the fact that immediately after the throwing down of the glove by South Carolina, the President and half his Cabinet set out on a pleasure trip to the North, to be present at the opening of one of our great internal improvements, connecting the East with the West, and the North with the South. These iron clamps are more efficient in preserving the Union than all the efforts of sensible men to convince fools that they are wrong. It is the mildest and most agreeable form in which cold iron can be used to counteract the effects of nullification.—Phil. Ledger.

BY AUTHORITY.

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS, by an act of the Congress of the United States of the twenty-fourth of May, one thousand eight hundred and twenty-eight, entitled "An Act in addition to an act, entitled "An Act concerning discriminating duties of tonnage and impost," and to equalize the duties on Prussian vessels and their cargoes," it is provided that upon satisfactory evidence being given to the President of the United States, by the government of any foreign nation, that no discriminating duties of tonnage or impost are imposed or levied in the ports of the said nation, upon vessels wholly belonging to citizens of the United States, or upon the produce, manufactures, or merchandise, imported in the same, from the United States, or shall be, suspended and discontinued, so far as respects the vessels of the said foreign nation, and the produce, manufactures, or merchandise, imported into the United States in the same from the said foreign nation, or from any other foreign country; the said suspension to take effect from the time of such notification being given to the President of the United States, and to continue so long as the reciprocal exemption of vessels belonging to citizens of the United States, and their cargoes, as aforesaid, shall be continued, and no longer:

And whereas satisfactory evidence has lately been received by me, from the government of the Republic of Chili, through an official communication of Senor Don Manuel Carvallo, accredited to this government as Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of that Republic, under date of the thirty-first of October, 1850, that no other or higher duties of tonnage and impost are imposed or levied in the ports of Chili, upon vessels wholly belonging to citizens of the United States, and upon the produce, manufactures, or merchandise imported in the same from the United States, and from any foreign country whatever, than are levied on Chilean ships, and their cargoes, in the same ports, and under like circumstances:

Now, therefore, I, MILLARD FILLMORE, President of the United States of America, do hereby declare and proclaim, that no such of the several acts imposing discriminating duties of tonnage and impost within the United States, are, and shall be, suspended and discontinued, so far as respects the vessels of Chili and the produce, manufactures, and merchandise imported into the United States in the same, from Chili and from any other foreign country whatever; the said suspension to take effect from the day above mentioned, and to continue thenceforward, so long as the reciprocal exemption of the vessels of the United States, and the produce, manufactures, and merchandise, imported into Chili in the same, as aforesaid, shall be continued, on the part of the government of Chili.

Given under my hand at the City of New York, the twenty-first day of May, thousand eight hundred and fifty, and the seventy-fifth of the independence of the United States.

By the President:

MILLARD FILLMORE,
W. S. DERRICK, Acting Secy. of State.

We take the following story from the lively Paris correspondence of the St. Louis Republican:

Two men, tolerably well dressed, stopped the other evening, between nine and ten o'clock, at the door of a grocer in the Rue de Normandie. They were both laughing immoderately, and talking in a loud tone of voice.

"I tell you yes," said one. "I bet you it isn't!" replied the other. "Well, let us bet," said the first. And at these words they both entered the store, where the grocer was all alone behind the counter.

"Do you sell molasses?" asked one of the men.

"Yes, gentlemen!" "Well, give me two pounds."

"Have you a jug, sir?"

"No; put it in my hat."

"How! in your hat?"

"Yes; don't be afraid, pour it in; it is a bet."

The grocer took the hat, put it in his scales, and poured in, not without laughing, the two pounds of molasses as ordered.

"Very well," said the singular customer, taking up his hat, "pay yourself;" and he threw a five franc on the counter.

The grocer opened his drawer, and began to count out the change.

"Excuse me, sir," said the owner of the hat, interrupting him; "but your molasses has a very singular odor."

"It is very good, I assure you," said the grocer.

"No, it smells badly; smell it yourself."

The too confiding grocer reached over his head, and put his nose down to smell; but his customer suddenly turned the hat over the grocer's head, and with vigorous blow pushed it down over his eyes. His accomplice, profiting by this opportunity plunged his hand into the open drawer, drew out all the money, and the two fled before the unfortunate grocer could either cry or get the hat off his head.
